

DTU Joins the Phan Chau Trinh High School Folklore Festival

On January 15th and 16th, Phan Chau Trinh High School held a Folklore Festival. Local universities and overseas study consultants also attended. DTU had a booth displaying some recent research projects and another for student enrollment and overseas study counseling, which were visited by teachers, parents, and students.

Phan Chau Trinh High School students come to learn about a DTU education

At the DTU booths, attendees learned about technology projects underway at DTU, such as the interactive Kinect game, a robot that guides pedestrians across busy streets, and a system to improve driving habits. Phan Chau Trinh High School students played lively games at the booths, had their portraits were sketched DTU and admired the subtle calligraphy of the talented DTU students.

... and enthusiastically take part in a cultural exchange at the booth

The DTU Enrollment and Overseas Study Counseling booth aimed at giving parents and students an understanding about the DTU enrollment procedure and provided the latest information about the variety disciplines and programs, in particular the advanced partnership courses with prestigious universities in the US and UK, highlighting increasing community recognition of the high quality of education at DTU.

In 2015, DTU introduced new disciplines, in General Practitioner and Economic Law, for example, and an agreement was made with Upper Iowa University to develop an On-Site Study-Abroad program at DTU to meet the ever-increasing workforce demands and provide graduates with the best study and career opportunities.

(Media Center)