DTU IT Department representatives meet with Doosanvina

The possibility of establishing a partnership to supply DTU IT specialists to Doosanvina was discussed, as well as the availability of Doosavina scholarships and internships for outstanding DTU students. In the future, they planned to also cooperate to jointly hold workshops on scientific research for the Doosavina and students to exchange experiences. Graduating DTU IT students were also interviewed personally by Doosanvina delegation after the meeting.

Established in 2005 in the Dung Quat industrial zone, Doosanvina is a branch of the Doosan Group, with five large factories specializing in the production of heavy machinery.
