

DTU students resume school after prolonged COVID-19 break

On May 4, DTU students returned to school and resumed their studies after a long absence to prevent Covid-19 transmission. Students and teachers are now required have their temperatures checked at the entrance, wear face masks and wash hands regularly as preventative measures.

Duong Thi Phuong Huyen (in white blouse), from K25 YDH2 (Pharmacy), volunteers to take temperatures at the elevator door on the Quang Trung campus.

Vo Phuong Nhi, from K25 TPM1, said: “I had taken part in online lessons and testing to avoid interruptions in studies. I have been wearing a mask since my return to Danang from Gia Lai, my hometown, and frequently wash my and complete health and travel declarations. I was also very happy that my landlord agreed to reduce my rent during the break.”

Nursing students practice.

Lecturer Pham Thi My Linh, from Hospitality & Tourism, said: “I missed my students so much. Hopefully, the outbreak will end soon so that our lives and university attendance will get back to normal.”

(Media Center)