Mr. Anthony Gill, Director General of The Nam Hai Resort said: “Currently, DTU graduates account for 7% of my workforce. Some of them have risen to key positions and made significant contributions to the Nam Hai. Working with DTU, we all support the improvement of professional skills and will provide internships and career opportunities for students before and after graduation.”

During the conference, DTU signed a partnership agreement with the Danang Association of Small and Medium Enterprises (DANA SME). Under the agreement, the DANA SME will support internships and recruitment for DTU students. Duy Tan University will arrange for DANA SME to organize seminars, training courses and research.

“The conference has a special meaning in the development process of DTU. Over the past twenty years, DTU has organized many conferences and is fully aware of the important role of a partnership between DTU and the local business, which will become the foundation for developing new strategic education programs. So DTU needs further support from the business association over the next twenty years. We will continue to expand our partnership with local business to make a sound contribution to the development of Vietnam.”, said Distinguished Teacher Le Cong Co.
