Informatics Festival in Danang 2009

In response to the World Information Technology Forum 2009 (WITFOR) firstly hold in Vietnam, SEG Vietnam collaborated with Danang Department of Information and Media to organize Informatics Festival 2009 in Danang City.

The festival will take place as schedule on 12 and 13 of August 2009. It is a chance for managers, leaders as well as students who are studying or working in the field of Information Technology to exchange experience and knowledge with each other. By this chance, SEG Vietnam will also hold a year-end summation of the first academic year based on CMU's standard.

This time, the festival has the honor of welcoming the authorities of Danang City, the Project Management Department (PIU), Danang Department of Education and Training and many other organizations. Besides, many activities for students will also take place in this festival.

Especially, this is another honor of DTU to welcome Professor Anthony Lattanze from Carnegie Mellon University of the USA. He is a famous person who has got many achievements and important inventions in the field of Information Technology.

With a well preparation and the attendance of many prestigious professors hopefully this festival will get the best success in the coming time.

(Website Editorial Board)