

Youngest Female Party Member of DTU

Born in 1996 in Quang Nam province, Pham Quynh Nhu is currently studying Pharmacology at DTU. She is well-known for her outstanding grades and dynamic extra-curricular activities.

Quynh Nhu

During 2015-2016, Quynh Nhu was praised by the General Assembly of the university Party branch for being the school's youngest Party member. She was officially admitted to the Party in grade 12.

Quynh Nhu went to the Nguyen Binh Khiem High School for the Gifted in Quang Nam province and was ranked as a good student for all 12 years. During that time, she participated in the 30/4 Olympiad for South Vietnam 10th and 11th graders.

In her first year at DTU, she continues to excel. She is a dynamic participant in extra-curricular activities and also dedicates time to music, dancing and hosting school and city programs.

“When I graduate, I plan to study for a Master’s degree and become a teacher,” Quynh Nhu says. “That is my childhood dream. I will also help my father to manage his pharmacy and I hope that my dreams will soon become true.”

(Media Center)